

Chair - Dr. Habiba Bouhamed-Chaabouni is a woman who has courageously faced the challenge of developing genetics in medical and health areas in her country. She is a professor of medicine at the University of Tunis EL Manar, Physician and Scientific Researcher in Human Genetics

Dr. Michael ATCHIA is a senior Mauritian consultant in the Education, Curriculum development and planning and in the Environmental Education sectors, with wide international experience. He has been a Programme Director at UNEP (Chief, Environmental Education and Training Unit) in Nairobi from 1986 to 1996, responsible during the same period for the “International Environmental Education Programme” of UNESCO/UNEP, active in over 100 member states.

Vice Chair - Dr. Ibrahim M. El-Sherbiny is Tenured-Professor of Nanoscience, Nanotechnology and Nanomedicine, the Founding Chairman of Nano and Materials Sciences Programs, Director of Center for Materials Science at

Zewail City of Science and Technology. El-Sherbiny earned Bachelor degree, with honors (top scholar) and Master of Science from Mansoura University, and his PhD in Smart drug delivery from Massey University, New Zealand in 2007

Prof Bi Guimé Crépin PÉNÉ is an Ivorian Scientist who held his PhD degrees in March 1994 and Oct. 1999 in Agricultural Engineering at University Colleges of Agronomy (Abidjan in Ivory Coast and Rennes France), and University of Abidjan-Cocody (Ivory Coast).

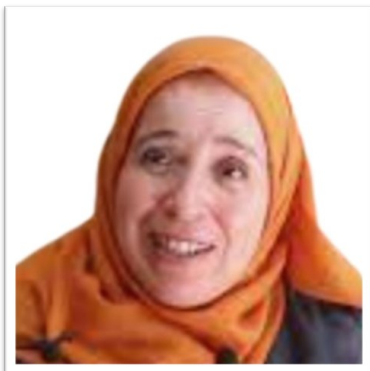

Dr. Gratian R. Bamwenda has a Master's in Business Administration degree (MBA); Ph.D. in Environmental Management; and M.Sc. and B.Sc. in Processing Engineering.

He has previously worked at: Queens University, Canada, as a Research Scientist; Advanced Institute for Science and Technology, Ministry of International Trade and Industry of Japan as a Senior Technology Researcher; and a technical specialist and advisor to the Ministry of Agriculture and Ministry of Investment, Industry and Trade of Tanzania.

Dr. Lemme Prica Kebaabetswe is a Senior Lecturer in the Department of Biological Sciences and Biotechnology, Botswana International University of Science and Technology (BIUST). Her specialized research areas are in virology, immunology, and microbiology

Prof. BENABBAS KAGHOUCHE SAMIA is a member of the international association for the promotion of studies and research in urban planning and development. She has 32 years' experience in scientific research.

Prof. Paul Kingsley Buah-Bassuah was promoted to Full Professor of Physics in April 2008. He started as an Assistant Lecturer in 1984, advanced to Lecturer in 1986, Senior Lecturer in 1991, and Associate Professor in 2000. Till date, he has served meritoriously for 38 years.

Prof. Jean-Pierre Ezin was Professor of mathematics of universities. He deployed his competences in several universities in Africa, France, USA, Brazil and Portugal. His areas of research include Riemannian and pseudo – Riemannian Geometry , nonlinear analysis, global analysis and related topics. He founded the renowned Institut de Mathématiques et de Sciences Physiques (IMSP) in Porto –Novo, Benin

Emeritus Obioma C. Nwaorgu is a Professor of Public Health Parasitology and Epidemiology has a PhD in 1978 from University of Cambridge UK. She is a Takemi Fellow of the Department of International Health, Harvard School of Public Health, Boston, USA (1994-1995) and a Global Health Leadership Fellow, Roll Back Malaria, WHO, Geneva, Switzerland (1999-2001) with support by Rockefeller Foundation, She is one of the pioneer members of Roll Back Malaria programme from 1999 to 2001.

Prof. Renuka Vithal is currently the Deputy Vice- Chancellor: Teaching and Learning at the University of Fort Hare, South Africa. She has research record of over 90 publications spanning a broad range of areas in education, including mathematics education, teacher education, educational research and higher education.

Professor Imasiku Anayawa Nyambe is the Vice-President of the Zambia Science Academy and awarded the O.R. Tambo Africa Research Chair in Water Conservation at UNZA.

He is a Full Professor of geology in the Geology Department of the School of Mines and Coordinator of the University of Zambia (UNZA) Integrated Water Resources Management(IWRM) Centre, a Centre that he established in 2006.